

Handwriting development - examples

We were very fortunate in our Launceston workshop to have a parent, Rachel, share examples of her 14 year old son Finn's writing and drawing. These activities are Finn's passions and ones that he spends many hours on. Handwriting can be an area of development that is slower to progress and these samples are an excellent example of a secondary student's writing.

Thank you to Rachel for sharing your experiences and knowledge and to Finn for sharing his work.
